Dear friends and neighbours

As I write, we are about to glide into Advent, and life will seem to become manic – even more than usually. We all get so busy trying to squeeze so much in before the big day (it's still too early for me to actually use the C word) – and the Church will be just as frenetic as anyone else.

However, Advent is meant to be a time when we pause, draw breath, reflect ...

From a Christian point of view, it is meant to be the season when we remember the people of God waiting for the answer to their deepest questions ... waiting and waiting, wondering if that answer would ever come.

And we wait again for Christ's return, because we are still looking for answers. This year past has forced us to look at ourselves, our politics, our peace (or lack of peace) and to realise that we still need the kindness of a Saviour. And knowing this, we are called to wait and be still.

And all this is reflected in the realm of nature ... cold, calm, still days of blue skies and golden sunlight ... or silver evenings as the mist rises from the ground and drapes itself over all around us, inviting us likewise to take even a moment or two to leave the current of busyness, and pause and reflect.

I love Advent perhaps even more than what comes next ... there is something truly delicious about waiting, pondering, expecting ... and being challenged to continue to dwell in hope for my own life, and for the life of the world.

I hope that in this season, you will find time, make time, to do nothing but to stop and dream, to enjoy the autumn light, to breathe in the air. And if there are questions that stir in your heart – well, we're all seeking somewhere, we're all hoping, and waiting. Perhaps there are answers, ancient but still ever new, that may be found just round the corner.

Yours with Advent blessing

Simon

TIME TO SAY GOODBYE

I'm writing this at the very end of October so by the time you get to read it circumstances may well have changed but this is what I need to say to all my lovely friends and neighbours in Harling and beyond today as I prepare to leave for new pastures.

You have all been so kind to me and I must say a great big Thank You for the friendship and love extended to me especially during these past few weeks as I've gradually become more and more unwell; to dear Eleanor who has taken me under her wing and to Grace this weekend, to Caryll and Richard who have given me support and love now and over the years, to Lilian and Chris - too many of you to mention. I love all of you and want to give everyone an enormous communal HUG. May God Bless you all!

This is how our Father God shows his love for us - through the care and love of friends (angels!). Love and every blessing,

Varlie xxxx

Our dear friend Varlie, having written a farewell for Contact, died peacefully in Brooklyn House Nursing Home, Attleborough yesterday (November 21st). She had received the rites of the Church that she had served so faithfully, and was accompanied by friends who loved her in her last moments.

We will miss Varlie terribly; but she herself would remind us not to grieve as though we had no hope. She trusted that Jesus had prepared a place for her, and she was ready to be reunited with Arthur in the light, peace and joy of God. And so, with sad but grateful hearts, we pray that she will rest in peace and rise in glory.

THE GARDEN IN DECEMBER

The Holly and the Ivy

Ivy Facts with thanks to the British Bee Keepers Association: Ivy (Hedera helix) flowers are an important source of pollen for late bee broods, but the nectar produces a set honey, with similar medicinal properties claimed for Manuka, that bees may struggle to use as winter store. Long associated with fun and happiness, growing ivy over houses is said to bring good fortune. Ivy covered poles ("Ale Stakes") were raised outside inns to show that that good wine could be found within. Ivy has long associations with pagan and Christian festivals at this time of year, remaining green and producing flowers when most plants have gone to sleep.

Outside Taps: Turn them off from inside if you can, if not insulate them.

Lawns: This year is a bit different to the textbooks. Having more or less died off in the Summer drought the grass has been rejuvenated by the October warmth and rain. As I am writing this in early November the lawns and verges are full of Spring growth of wild flowers that managed to thrive with no competition from the grass. From my viewpoint this is good, and a mow with the blades set high when weather permits will encourage nature to do its thing (compost the mowings). The grass is growing equally rapidly, and if you want a flat monoculture grass lawn it is a bit more tricky. When the grass is dry cut to about 5cm high which reduces the risk of disease, but gives enough top growth to withstand very cold weather. Weeding and feeding will have to wait until the Spring. Whichever sort of lawn you want continue to remove dead leaves regularly. Norfolk Wildlife Trust Breckland Local Group

Trees and shrubs including roses: Continue to plant bare root plants when there is no frost in the ground. Stake taller plants and check from time to time, firming the ground around them if they are moved by the wind.

Cuttings: Hardwood cuttings of trees and shrubs can still be taken.

Short plants: Don't let them get covered with leaves.

Vegetables: Continue to harvest whatever is ready.

Fruit trees: Continue winter pruning established fruit trees and bushes (not stone fruit) until late February.

Finish pruning grapevines by early January. Keep some lengths of the woody prunings and place on the bench in a cold greenhouse or shed for a few days, then cut into 30 cm lengths. Cut at an angle just below a bud, and straight at the top just above a bud (this way you will know which way up to plant them) plant several in a large pot or in a cutting bed, label and keep watered and weeded throughout the summer and they should be ready to plant out next Autumn.

Bulbs: It is still not too late to plant daffodil and tulip bulbs - garden centres should be selling them off, so keep an eye open for bargains. Check potted bulbs planted in September and move any that are ready to an unheated greenhouse, cold frame or cool windowsill.

Good Gardening and a Merry Christmas

Kevin

EAST HARLING LUNCH CLUB

We are delighted to announce that we will be holding a lunch in December for those diners who attended our last meal before lockdown. You will all be contacted with details.

There is an amazing amount of red tape involved in restarting, but that is all now in hand or dealt with.

If this first meal is well supported it is hoped that the lunch club proper will be held initially monthly from January...watch this space!

The intervening 3 years have not been kind to some of our cooks, but Kate has agreed to continue to prepare food for you, and there are 2 new faces who will be cooking in the future - we could still do with more cooks to lighten the load, and maybe get back to fortnightly meals. Please give me, Kevin 717145 a call if you are interested.

We look forward to seeing you all soon, meantime we wish you a Happy Christmas!

Norfolk Wildlife Trust Breckland Local Group

October 23rd was a rather soggy walk across Weeting Heath in search of fungi. But everyone stayed very cheerful and were delighted to see quite a number of species on grassland and then amongst the trees next to the visitor centre.

November saw the start of our talks programme, with Liz Ibbitson talking about the work of the RSPB with Little Terns.

On December 14th starting at 7.30pm, we will be serving seasonal refreshments after a talk by Ieuan Evans BTO's Director of Engagement. He will be unravelling the mystery of migration. As usual the venue is The Methodist Centre, High Street, Watton. IP25 6AB. Cost is £2 members, £3 non-members. No booking required.

BOOK REVIEWS - Thanks to Liz!

I have just finished the debut novel of Ruth Hogan "The Keeper of Lost Things" first published in 2017 to become a Sunday Times best seller.

Stories intertwine when an author carries on a habit of a lost love, picking up lost articles he notices and secretly keeping them with description and details of location found in hope of future return to owners. It becomes clear he had written fictional stories of how he thought these things might have been lost and who they belonged to. These stories are insightful in bringing other characters of the story together with lots of humour involved.

(This edition was from 2021 where her additional three novels were also listed and include: The Wisdom of Sally Red Shoes 2018; Queenie Malone's Paradise Hotel 2019; & Madame Burova 2021.

Sheila Hancock's 2014 'Miss Carter's War' is the story over decades of a young enthusiastic teacher becoming one of the first women to receive a degree from the University of Cambridge as a former SOE behind enemy lines. It goes through her lifetime of changes through the education system and the friendships along the way. (Found it touched on many parts of society that also met changes over her Majesty's Reign.)

'My Kind of Happy' by Cathy Bramley is a 2020 tale of dealing with grief and finding one's true self. When character Fearn makes a chance discovery she decides to start a happiness wish list. Stepping out of her comfort zone and into the unknown world treasuring memories of her beloved grandmother's floristry and helping her to arrange beautiful blooms that brought joy to their recipients. (This certainly touched my soul having also lost my brother under similar circumstances and our own love of beautiful gardens from our mom and hers! Will always treasure memories of our Mom's first flower arrangements and developing her own 'native garden'!)

I just finished The Turning Point by Freya North which I loved! Two very talented people meet by chance in London, a children's book author relocated to North Norfolk with her two school aged children and another single parent musician from British Columbia, Canada. All the scenic depictions were wonderful! Their relationship and career struggles very interesting as well.

"A Few of the Girls" - Short stories of Maeve Binchy, her husband and editors published in 2015. A very nice bedside read with forty-one thought provoking tales.

Thank you very much Liz and these books should all be in the Book Swap Shed and I hope you enjoy them. Editor

A Thank You from Harling Parish Council

Harling Parish Council would like to wish all the residents of East, West and Middle Harling a very Happy Christmas and a Happy and Healthy New Year!

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the volunteers in the village who work so hard to make our village the wonderful place it is to live in. Special thanks go to all the Community Speed watch Volunteers, especially Tony Long, and Brian Copping for carting the flashing speed sign around the village every two weeks!

The ladies and gents who do the most incredible job looking after the community garden, it looked amazing this Summer, Liz, Rachel and team.

The Volunteers who run the Old School Hall, the Youth Centre, the Church Congregation, WI, PTFA, Friends of the Church, Luncheon Club, Trustees for the Educational and Combined Trusts, Gardening Club, the Recreation Ground Trustees and the amazing work done by all the volunteers at the Recreation Ground, especially Chid Blades.

Thank you to all the local businesses who have supported events financially and offered their services for free.

The village Groundsmen Brett and Rod, for a great job done year round.

And a personal thanks to the eleven Parish Councillors who work tirelessly throughout the year, voluntarily serving the Community.

So many incredible people in our village who give up their time to help others, thank you all.

And of course, the biggest thank you to Sue and all the team for producing the wonderful Contact Magazine, the collators, the deliverers, contributors and advertisers. It is a real life line for so many and a great read, thank you all. Happy Christmas

GARDENING CLUB REPORT FOR DECEMBER

At our November meeting we had an entertaining demonstration of holly wreath making. I predict some very sore fingers at Christmas! 🎄

On Thursday 15 December is the trip to Cromer for the Show. If you have not booked it is now too late, but if you want to go leave your name and number with Mary on 01953 717 193, and she can let you know if anyone cancels. We also have our member's Christmas lunch at the Swan.

Along with many other local groups we will be decorating a tree for the Christmas Tree Festival in the church - well worth a visit if last year's is anything to go by.

Our next coach outing will be a Snowdrop Walk on 15 February at Fullers Mill Gardens, then on to Scottsdale Garden Centre. Cost will be £18 per head, and as always members get priority.

In September we are arranging a trip to How Hill (see November Contact) - details in a later issue.

Most of our meetings are open to non-members at a cost of £3- good value, but becoming a member for just £9 for a whole year is even better value and we are delighted to welcome new members!

Next month is our social / fun quiz night on Tuesday 9 January when light nibbles will be served to all comers, and members will be given a soft drink or glass of wine. As always visitors are welcome at a cost of £3 per head (bring your own bottle) ~~£1000~~ members please book with me on 07594 288 139, so that we know how many to cater for). Tables of up to 6 people, but if you want to come alone don't worry we will find you a team. Space is limited, so book early - we have reserved tables for members. (No prizes, just a chance to have a good ~~marble~~ and a bit of fun).

Another quick Taster: What do M and MM stand for in apple rootstocks? Tim Martin is the founder of which pub chain? How much does it cost to become a member of the Sports and Social Club? Want to know the answers - you will have to come along to the quiz!

Hello from the Beeches Care Home

Residents at The Beeches have been keeping busy with outside musical entertainment, crafts, fireworks fun and a special day of remembrance.

Staff went out of their way to make this year's bonfire night special with sparklers and autumn crafts, hotdogs and hot chocolate as well as putting on their own display of fireworks for the residents to enjoy from the comfort and warmth of their home.

Residents had a day of remembrance with their own mini museum of objects from WWI/II and had fun exploring the objects and reminiscing over times gone by.

The residents have been having a great time but would also like to invite members and groups of the local community to come and visit them.

If you would like to come and visit our residents either for a chat or to do an activity at The Beeches, please contact the Activities Coordinator Marie on 01953 717584."

Communities in Christ, working together

One of the first pieces of guidance to reassure new churchwardens at the start of a Diocesan workshop is “don’t worry, every church’s quinquennial identifies at least £250,000 of repair costs, but the church has survived many centuries and is still standing”. In addition, delegates are reminded that, as communities of faith and practice, we are stronger working together.

Holding on to these happy thoughts, Wilby’s newly appointed churchwarden started his tenure in 2018 but soon realised that the chancel roof and ceiling posed a very real challenge to the integrity of the church’s fabric. A call to the extremely supportive and experienced diocesan Historic Church Building Support officer (HCBSO) produced a strategy for raising the £170,000 required. The first step was to decide whether to go down the National Lottery Heritage Funding (NLHF) route, or to approach grant funding charities.

Thankfully one of our benefice churches had almost reached the end of their repair project generously funded both by the NLHF and the National Churches Trust. Their project coordinator was kind enough to talk Wilby’s team through the advantages and disadvantages of both approaches, and made the process of seeking funding far less daunting than it first appeared. Once the decision had been made to proceed with grant funding charities, ten funding bodies were identified and a strategy for approaching them was provided by the wonderful HCBSO.

The applications received remarkable support from the charities. The Norfolk Churches Trust and the National Churches Trust have been particularly generous and understanding of Wilby’s service to local and wider communities. For example, tackling rural loneliness and isolation, and offering lifelong learning opportunities for young people and adults.

The work was split into three phases: Phase I urgent minor repairs - £15,000; Phase II surveys and investigations - £16,000; and Phase III major repairs. Phases I and II are now completed and the architect’s certificate of completion issued.

Putting the applications together has only been possible by networking and engaging with parishioners and also with people with skills available within the various communities – benefice, deanery and diocese.

Thanks to the extraordinary efforts by ordinary people, we are now within £35,000 of our target and awaiting the results of recent applications to several new charitable bodies to close the funding gap. If all goes well, we may be able to commission Phase III work to begin early in the New Year. We are truly blessed being members of such wonderful communities.

Harling 10 K Run

In about 2010, a group of people got together to organise an annual 10k race from Harling Rec. The 1st race took place in 2012 the year of the London Olympics.

10 years and 8 very successful races later, we have decided to hand over the organisation and the responsibility of the race to Harling Athletics Club. The Harling 10k committee as it is/was will no longer exist although as individuals we will still help the Athletics Club with future race’s. Hopefully no one will notice any change.

All money that we have made over the years, will be shared with the following local organisations that promote and support sport in Harling: Harling Athletics club; Harling Cricket club; Harling Football club; Harling Colts football club; Harling Karate club; Harling Bowls club; Harling Sports and Social club and Harling Rec Trustees. All of the accounts will be closed and we will hand over to the Athletics Club.

We would like to thank all our helpers over the years and hope your help will continue in the future.

The 2023 race date is yet to be confirmed but it is hoped to stage the race in early September.

In the Spring of 1970, one of the finest Anglo-Saxon artefacts ever discovered in Norfolk, was found in a daffodil field next to Larling Church. This has become known as the "Larling Plaque". It has been described, in "A History of Norfolk in 100 Objects" by John A Davies and Time Pestell, as being carved out of whalebone, of high status and fine workmanship.

There are two detailed reliefs (two more have broken off and are lost). To the right is a winged and maned creature, biting its' interlaced tail in a style characteristic of 8th Century Art. To the left is a depiction of Romulus and Remus, the legendary founders of Rome, being suckled by a she-wolf. This same motif was used on coins of the Anglo-Saxon King Ethelbert of East Anglia. Ethelbert was murdered in 794 by King Offa of Mercia, a political rival. Ethelbert was subsequently made a saint, and Larling Church is dedicated to him. This panel may mean there was an earlier church on the site, which was associated with East Anglian royalty. King Ethelbert had a connection, possibly through bloodline, to the Roman Occupation. He was likely to have been proud to show off Romulus and Remus as a type of status symbol to prove this link, hence the twins on his coinage. There is also reference to the royal family being known as the Wuffingas or "Kin of the Wolf".

We will never know if Ethelbert walked the fields of Larling. Was he a local? It would be good to think so. Also who was the craftsman who made this tiny detailed plaque? The plaque has been on show in Durham Cathedral, in Thetford museum and at Sutton Ho. It is lodged at Norwich Castle Museum and is displayed on a regular basis.

Dudley Stammers.

Seven Golden Daffodils (Extract) Lee Hays and Fran Mosely

I haven't got a mansion, Nor have I any land, Not one single dollar, to crinkle in my hands, But I can show you the morning, on a thousand hills, And kiss you and give you, seven golden daffodils. Yes seven pretty daffodils, are shining in the sun, To light our way to evening, and when the day is done I will give you kisses three, and a crust of bread, and a pillow of piny boughs, to rest your head. But I can show you the morning on a thousand hills, And kiss you and give you seven golden daffodils, And kiss you and give you seven golden daffodils.
